EXT. /residential sidewalk/evening

Zack and Julio are 15 year old boys walking down a street after school. They are near Zacks apartment talking to each other when Zack sees a shiny black car parked on the sidewalk of Church Ave.

ZACK

Dude we should hit this one

JULIO

Think theres anything in it?

ZACK

Are you kidding me?

Zack goes closer to the car glancing in the window as they cross the street. Zack and Julio stand across the street, under a tree eyeing the black car

ZACK

Yo there's a blue bag in there, it's gotta be something. Ah shit man this could be the biggest win yet !!

JULIO

I don't know its not even that dark and this is a nice ass street

ZACK

Hell yeah

JULIO

No like, we should only get the ones near your place

ZACK

Shut up I got a good feeling about this one

Julio sighs and pulls his hoodie over his messy hair. Zack does the same. They cross the street.

ZACK

Drivers side backseat

JULIO

Word

In one swift movement Julio swings at the window with his lucy rock. Zack leans in and grabs a blue purse. The two take off running.

INT. Zacks apartment/next day

Zack stands timidly in the doorway of his sister Martha's room. Martha was older than Zack

MARTHA

Well look who it is. My little brother. Zack Moore. Defamed thief and criminal

ZACK

Martha... What are you even saying

MARTHA

I'm not saying anything I'm just watching

ZACK

Martha quit acting weird, what are you watching

Martha turns her phone around to face Zack. He walks in from the doorway towards the chair Martha was sitting on. A security camera video shows 2 shadows stealing a bag at dusk on Church Ave. the previous evening

ZACK

Damn that sucks

MARTHA

Zack... please be real I know it's you

ZACK

Me? Where?

MARTHA

Ugh you're so stupid. I can clearly see your army backpack you wear to school everyday that's obviously you being a bum!

Martha stands up from the bed and leans over Zack. He says nothing

MARTHA

I should've known something was up when you bought that watch and gaming system. How much have you stolen?

ZACK
Where's that video even from?

MARTHA
My friend Lara sent our chat that video after her grandma got robbed.
Feel good about yourself? Thug

ZACK
You can snitch I don't give a fuck.
You're the only person who thinks thats me

MARTHA
If that video gets out I'll be joined by others who can clearly tell its you and your hoodlum ass friend!!

ZACK
You can tell the whole damn world would that make you feel better about yourself?

Zack and Martha are now standing very close to each other speaking in elevated tones

MARTHA
I don't want you in jail

ZACK
Really ?

MARTHA
No. There's only one thing I that want...

Ext. Lara's grandma's house/evening

Julio, Martha, and Zack all stand outside the white house on Church ave

MARTHA
Alright here's the game plan. Lara told me her grandma is home but it's up to you to ring that bell and explain yourselves to her grandma

JULIO
Can't we just, I don't know leave it with a note in a bush or something

ZACK
Yeah this is mad awkward

JULIO Totally

MARTHA
No way!

ZACK
Martha, you're no fun

MARTHA
Look you're so lucky I saw that video and not the police you ungrateful losers but maybe you'd enjoy being there instead of doing the right thing

JULIO
Suddenly jail ain't so bad

ZACK
Just say you found the purse in a bush

They laugh together forgetting the severity of the situation

MARTHA
I mean it I'll call the cops right now! Go up to that door and every last card better be in that purse

Zack and Julio walked up the tidey walkway and knocked on the yellow door. They wait a moment before a short older woman opens the door. She's not a spring chicken but not totally decrepit either

GAIL
Hello gentlemen what can I do for you

JULIO
Uhm Hey

ZACK
Hi we took this from your car. Sorry

The two boys stood there awkwardly hearts beating fast.
Suddenly they did not feel so tough

GAIL

Why my purse! The police said they would never find it. Come in

ZACK

What?

GAIL

Come inside. I have something to show you.

Gail sits Julio and Zack on the sofa of a tidy living room. She disappears and comes back with a box. She opens the box revealing an assortment of shiny rings and necklaces

GAIL

When I was a younger girl I wanted nothing more than to be beautiful. So I took all of these and called them my own

ZACK

So you stole them?

GAIL

You could say that yes

JULIO

Damn can't even trust old people

GAIL

That's funny but young man this is serious. I took all these watches to feel beautiful and look at me now. I have a beautiful house and shiny black car. I didn't have to steal. I only had to wait for my situation to change. I only did because I was young and foolish

JULIO

Well we're sorry again mam

GAIL

I don't want you to apologize, I instead want you to promise me something

ZACK

Oh hell nah I ain't gonna mow your lawn or buy your pills I already learned

GAIL

No no

Gail closes her box and looks at them in the eye

GAIL

Stealing is wrong. I forgive you but you young men could've been found yourselves in quite a bit of trouble.
Promise me you'll stay in school and do the right thing

ZACK

We sure will

Gail walks the boys towards the door

GAIL

And please at least try not to steal from cars again. At least not mine...

She smiles and closes the door

Ext. Park/nighttime

Zack and Julio are hanging out after their ordeal with Gail earlier in the day. They were walking home from playing ball at the park when Julio spots a wallet on the passenger seat of an old sedan

ZACK

Don't think about it I don't wanna deal with any more weird ass old lady's

JULIO

Are you kidding me Gail was so cool I wish we could have her riding with us

ZACK

I'd rather not

JULIO

So, the sedan?

Julio stared at the almost empty parking lot

JULIO

C'mon bro just one more time. For the

memories

Zack smiled and they walked towards the sedan and smashed the window. The alarm started blaring in the night. Within seconds they had the wallet and fled. Running for blocks into the night. Where nothing but the promise of tomorrow could save them
